

About

You are on the main page of the HISinOne Wiki. The aim of the wiki is to explain the HISinOne system and the most important processes for using the system in an understandable way.

The HISinOne can be used in various roles. Roles differ in the user rights and the functions that are available to the user.

For a detailed explanation of all functions, log in to the HISinOne Wiki with your data center abbreviation and the associated password. Then select your role from the following list:

- Student
- Clerk
- Administrator

If you run into problems while using the Wiki and the HISinOne system, you still need access to HISinOne, or if you have general questions, you can contact our support:
